Description:

This course provides an overview of the concepts and skills involved in effectively managing group dynamics.

Participants will learn how to recognize and manage dysfunctional behavior, build group consensus and maintain group energy and momentum. Mastering these skills will help you create more effective work teams, keep meetings on track and build public confidence.

Members of high performing teams understand group dynamics and take responsibility for channeling them in ways that are constructive and consistent with their vision. In an atmosphere of positive group dynamics, people feel safe and are free to be themselves, share ideas and contribute to the group. By being aware of group dynamics, team members can build a climate of trust, open participation and mutual cooperation.

We will explore and use the G.R.P.I. model as a way to access group dynamics and help ensure that a project team is productive, minimizing ramp-up time and re-work.

Course Benefits:

- Learn about group process and shared leadership
- Determining what you can do personally to improve group process skills
- Rating your team's group process
- Identifying how your team will improve
